Town Will Appoint Secretary To Help Returning Soldiers

Newmarket's rehabilitation committee was authorized by Newmarket town council at a special meeting on Monday evening to appoint a permanent secretary to obtain information concerning the men and women in the services and to help them get re-established on their return to civilian life. All members of the council were present.

The secretary will be paid by the town, and be engaged for part-time work at first but full-time as soon as it becomes necessary.

The council authorized the committee to make any necessary expenditures, and to submit accounts to the council for payment.

Officers of the committee are: chairman, Deputy-Reeve A. D. Evans; vice-chairman, Fred S. Thompson; secretary, Joseph Vale; chairman of reception committee, Fred S. Thompson.

Mr. Vale presented the committee's recommendations to the council. Among the duties of the committee, said Mr. Vale, would be to get pensions for service men who were entitled to them, and to see that service men get the education that they are entitled to.

"We want our boys to see that we are not just talking but that we are doing something," said Mr. Vale. "We want them to return to find themselves respected heroes, not just for the present, but permanently."

Mr. Vale said that it would be necessary to compile information concerning each man, and that this information, showing how many men wanted technical training, might, for instance, help the town in securing a vocational wing for the high school.

"Reports of discharged men are beginning to come in now," said Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales. "What I can't see is how men can be discharged as medically unfit and no provision be made for their support," Dr. Dales said with reference to the delayed granting of pensions.

"We are asking that we be called a rehabilitation committee instead of a reception committee," said Mr. Evans.

Mr. Evans read a schedule of out-of-work benefits for returned men, and commented: "We never dreamt of anything like this after the last war."

"There never was a more honest attempt to rehabilitate returned soldiers than is being made today," said Mayor Dales.

"We are making progress," added Councillor Frank Bowser.

"All expenditures are to be approved by your chairman or the chairman of your finance committee and are to be paid by the council," said Dr. Dales.

"Every returned man is entitled to have his unemployment insurance book posted up since June 1, but many of them don't know it," Mr. Vale said as an example of the help which the committee could give the service men.

"And they must appeal from a pension decision within 90 days," said Dr. Dales. "They forget to do it."

"The boys are so glad to get back and get discharged that they will sign anything," said Mr. Vale. "I had cases from the last war where men weren't getting pensions because they signed things they shouldn't have signed."

"We should send a letter to each boy telling him about the committee so that he can get in touch with the committee before he accepts his discharge," said Mayor Dales.

"Does that affect getting a pension?" questioned Councillor J. L. Spillette.

"It is easier before they accept a discharge," said Dr. Dales.

"The feeling seems to be growing across the province in favor of establishing a fund to help the boys rather than giving them a medallion or a watch," said Reeve F. A. Lundy.

"I want to congratulate the committee on a splendid start," said Mayor Dr. Dales.

"We recognized that the job was too big to be done by voluntary work entirely," said Mr. Vale.

Minimum Salary For Teachers Set At $1,000

Women teachers recently received a letter from the Federation of Women Teachers' Associations of Ontario advising them that recent Ontario legislation had raised the minimum salary for teachers from $800 to $1,000.

"Since inexperienced teachers will now be able to secure at least $1,000 salary, it seems only fair that you with experience should receive more than $1,000," the letter said, adding that the province pays grants toward salaries of from 12 to 77 percent, according to the wealth of the district.

The letter said that the average salary secured by normal school graduates last year was $1,014.93. Among these inexperienced teachers 14 reported to the Federation that they received $1,200 and one reported $1,300. Sixty reported $1,100.

The uniformed Air Cadets went through their routine without an error, and, following the inspection, the visiting officers expressed themselves to the Lions club committee as "very pleased and very favorably impressed."

The events included sizing by flights, inspection, march-past by flights, march-past in close column, advance in review order, forming of hollow square, presentation of commissions to Temporary Flying Officers H. C. Westbrook, Fred S. Thompson, J. B. Bastedo and H. M. Gladman, presentation of an Air Cadet ensign by Douglas Boyd, secretary of the Air Cadet League, dedication of the ensign by Rev. General Potts Presents Three-Star Victory Flag

It was a pleasant surprise to the camp to learn that the chief of staff's three-starred Victory flag had been given to it for its over-all effort in the Victory bond campaign. The D.O.C., Major-General A. E. Potts, C.B.E., E.D., formally presented the flag to the camp at an impressive ceremony on Tuesday, May 23. All the troops were drawn up before the stand. Col. Young, our O.C., voiced his appreciation that the general had come for this event.

The D.O.C. expressed pleasure that his plans allowed him to visit the camp on this occasion. He congratulated the camp on its achievement and said it pleased him specially that so many individual soldiers had bought bonds. The objective in the present campaign for the district was large and seemed too large at first, but we had confidence that we might achieve the objective from the fact that we had done it before. The results were gratifying. We had done more than we had hoped.

Those who joined up to serve their country were making a contribution as great as should be asked of them, but it had been in his mind particularly that as many soldiers as could should buy bonds for the future protection of themselves and for their more easy adjustment to civilian life after the war is over.

We could not hold any easy optimism about the outcome of the war, though we had every reason to be optimistic. Every eventuality had been thought through to effect victory in the bloody conflict that would soon be upon us, when the battle that held the greatest possibility for the world was joined. But none must slack and all should do their part to the utmost of their ability.

There is need for continual recruiting of every able-bodied man, especially for the armored corps and infantry.

In a special word to the C.W.A.C., he thanked them for their contribution to the loan campaign and generally for their splendid war effort. They had fitted wonderfully into army life and had done a magnificent job. There was need for more recruits for the C.W.A.C. The general asked every man to let this be known to his women acquaintances. He also asked the women present to tell their friends of this continued need for more C.W.A.C.'s.

At the conclusion of his address, the general broke the flag and all joined in three hearty cheers. The assembled soldiers then broke off on the double to their respective areas in camp to continue their training.

The general inspected the guard of honor and the C.W.A.C. and congratulated them on their smart appearance.

The weather was perfect and allowed the ceremony to be carried forward without hitch or discomfort, save the discomfort that comes with a warm, pleasant day.

At the suggestion of our colonel, the general made a brief visit to the Citizen-Soldier club, where a group of women workers were assembled to meet him. The general expressed himself as pleased with the set-up that he saw and congratulated the ladies on their efforts for the soldiers of the camp. It was a happy thing that the soldiers had such a place where they might be at ease, a home away from home, supervised and organized specially for their comfort. It meant so much for the zeal and happiness of the men and women.

Lieut. Fred White, who is through with his Victory loan bond sale job, has had another job for the last week. Some time ago he was O.C. of the school of instruction that used to be ours. He has graduated from school and has been sent to college.

It was this way. As part of their closing exercises, the cadets of St. Andrew's College, Aurora, are being inspected by Major-General Potts. To assist them in their final preparations for this visit, Lieut. Freddie White was loaned to them. His special contribution was in drill instruction, in which he excels.

This last week the camp was favored by a visit from Col. S. Forbes, O.B.E., the O.C. of A.H. S.G.T., Camp Borden. He made a tour of the camp and expressed satisfaction with the things he saw. At a formal mess dinner he was the honored guest and made a short, pointed and helpful speech specially directed to the younger officers.

He lamented that man management is given so little time in an officer's training. The relation between an officer and his men is the all-important thing. The colonel cited an illustration to back his point. He had kind words to say about the camp. The padre was asked to give formal thanks to the colonel for his presence and his address.

Gnr. Jack Drescher of the records department of the R.O.R. is spending some of his time continuing a pursuit he had in civilian life. Jack has always been interested in the Scout movement. He assists Scoutmaster Budd with the Newmarket troop and last Sunday led the Boy Scouts when they

The padre, who is trying to fill the position of unit educational officer, would like to make known through this column that the Canadian Legion educational courses are available in most any academic pursuit and also in technical and vocational subjects for any soldier (male or female). These courses are open for any not taking basic training. Interested inquiries are welcome. Information is gladly given by the padre at his office at the back of the chapel.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Price celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary on Saturday at their home, 123 Prospect St. Mr. Price is 82 years old and Mrs. Price is 84.

Married in Shrewsbury, Levonstown, England, Mr. and Mrs. Price left England for Canada 60 years ago on May 29. Since then they have visited England three times.

They settled in King, where Mr. Price, after farming for one summer, became employed by A. Davis and Son, tanners. The tannery there was burned out 20 years later and Hon. E. J. Davis moved to Newmarket. Mr. Price remained in the employ of the Davis family, Mr. and Mrs. Price coming to Newmarket before the tannery was built here. NIAGARA HOLIDAY

Two days of holiday and school at Niagara Falls deserve an accounting. The occasion was the annual meeting of the Ontario-Quebec division of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association. We arrived on Thursday evening to find the entire Niagara peninsula shrouded in mist. It was the following day before we could see the falls at all clearly. We crossed the new Rainbow bridge on Saturday and for the first time had a chance to look at the falls from the U.S. side. When you get across it is quite evident why the Canadian side is the more popular for viewing the falls, but on the other side you do get an exciting close-up of the swirling, rushing waters that are soon to take the plunge.

We had only to present birth certificates in order to be allowed into the great American republic. The immigration officials took a few minutes to look up our "record," and, not finding any apparently, told us that we might enter. We had only a little over an hour to spend.

We were shocked to find on the outskirts of the city of Niagara Falls, N.Y., a U.S. federal "victory" housing project called "Hyde Park village." We could hardly believe that man, let alone Uncle Sam himself, would erect such tenements. Probably they were an improvement over what their tenants had formerly known, although many of them were empty and maybe Uncle Sam is having difficulty in finding tenants. Row upon row of huts, each about big enough for a fair-sized room, but probably divided into two or three rooms, and built together in long one-storeyed structures, made up this village.

There was one door into each dwelling, with two posts in front of each door. The posts were about ten feet apart and held clothes-lines. Sprawled in the clay in front of some of these homes would be two or three Negro children. Other homes were occupied by white people. We noted a public telephone booth outside one row of huts. The number "1600" appeared on one of the units. Probably there were even more "homes" than that in this brand-new slum.

Uncle Sam has a big job of reconstruction at home. If the U.S. standard of living is higher than Canada's, as is frequently said, it also has its low spots. Contributing to the low standard of living in both countries of course is the economic boundary which forces trade east and west instead of north and south. We doubt if Ontario would lose any industries if all tariffs between the two countries were removed. Oshawa would still have a General Motors plant, and Newmarket, we think, would still have the Dixon Pencil Co., even though it has a parent company in New Jersey, and the Office Specialty Co., even though it has an affiliated company in New York State. The tendency today is towards decentralization of industry.

Russell T. Kelley, Hamilton advertising man, talked on this subject of decentralization of industry at our Saturday morning session. He said that Hamilton and Toronto were already too big, and that the province should try to have new industries establish themselves in the towns, villages and smaller cities. Mr. Kelley's main theme was that a prosperous agriculture would mean prosperous towns and cities. He said that Canadian farmers had three billion dollars worth of needs. It would take $400,000,000 just to install water systems in Canada's farm homes.

Mr. Kelley does not believe in the curtailment of farm production. He believes that the farmer should get a fair price for what he sells and that he could sell all he could produce at a fair price —provided that we start with the farmer and see that he gets fairly paid. Mr. Kelley said that 25,000 of the first 100,000 Canadian recruits were rejected, and attributed that sorry record to under-nourishment during the depression years. During the depression years, he said, 5,000 children went to bed under-nourished in the city of Hamilton alone. They needed a glass of milk, another egg, butter.

Returning to our visit across the Rainbow bridge, we were told that we could take up to $10 each. We spent something less than $3 and, as we expected, were required to pay customs duty of something over a dollar on these purchases. We were surprised, however, when we were told that we had broken the rules when we made these purchases. The $10 allowed was just for necessary expenses, and not for purchases, we were told. It was interesting to learn that the strictness of the customs officers varied. Some officers permit small purchases to be brought in without collecting duty but others are more business-like. The latter officers make the public "boil" sometimes but they are doing their jobs as they should be done. If there are tariffs, they should be collected.

One of the convention speakers, Louis Blake Duff of Welland, had something to say on the subject of government interference in business. He commended the Fort Erie Times-Review, winner of the Pearce trophy for the best editorial page, for its vigilance in protecting the liberties of the citizen. It is our belief that people who live near the border, see the enforcement of customs and foreign exchange regulations, and see things forbidden on one side of the border that are permitted on the other, are more critical of government for the infringement of personal liberties. Selective service today is a good example of so-called bureaucracy. Employers and employees are greatly hampered in their efforts to fill jobs or find jobs, but no doubt selective service is a contribution to the winning of the war. But we should remember that selective service was foisted on the government by the people, not on the people by the government. If the Conservative opposition had not demanded selective service, and if many newspapers had not supported that demand, they would today be criticizing selective service.

There were two other newspaper prizes. Our neighbor, the Stouffville Tribune, won the handsome Joseph Clark cup for the best Ontario or Quebec weekly newspaper published in a town of not more than 1,500 population. The St. Marys Journal-Argus won the Stephenson trophy for the best front page among newspapers published in towns of not more than 4,500 population.

Other convention speakers included H. H. Rimmer, of the Canadian General Electric Co., who urged all weekly newspapers to become members of the Audit Bureau of Circulations, Mayor George R. Inglis of St. Catharines, who welcomed the visitors, John Bracken, Progressive-Conservative leader, who spoke on Canada's post-war needs, and Andy Clark of CBC's "Neighborly News."

Of particular interest in this part of Ontario was the presentation of a painting to J. A. MacLaren of the Barrie Examiner in recognition of 25 years of service on the executive of the dominion organization, the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association.

President John Marsh of Amherstburg turned over his office to C. B. Smith of the Creemore Star. Mr. Smith gave up farming to buy the Creemore newspaper 20 years ago and has made a success of publishing. Cecil Bond, New Liskeard, a former Newmarket boy, was re-elected to the executive committee of the Ontario-Quebec division.

We close this report for lack of space. Our readers will take for granted the beauty of the Niagara peninsula at this season. We were interested to see how thoroughly the fruit-growers cultivate the ground beneath their trees. We met some of the farm service force girls. They were harvesting asparagus and transplanting strawberries and tomatoes. They said that Lorna Cousins of Aurora had been at their Vineland camp but did not know the names of any other Newmarket or Aurora girls.

THE COMMON ROUND

By Isabel Inglis Colville

EMPIRE DAY

Before the war—and it's sometimes hard to remember that time—we SAID we belonged to the British empire but it didn't seem to mean much—we took all its benefits, its heritage of freedom, the protection of its navy, everything—as a matter of course.

We belonged to the British Commonwealth of Nations, but we, the people, were only dimly conscious of the other links in that great encircling chain. Canada was all that mattered, and I'm afraid that in many cases it was only the part of Canada where people happened to make their home that counted for much with them.

But war has changed all that, and the Commonwealth has become as compact as if we could step from Canada to Australia.

The war has provided a very special education in geography; we speak glibly of countries whose very existence was a matter of utter indifference to us; whose peoples we thought of as races entirely different from ours, and of whose ideals and aspirations we were even arrogantly and profoundly ignorant.

The young men from all the Allied nations, who are serving overseas, will be Cosmopolitans. They will see their own nations in relation to other nations. They will, although more solidly citizens of their own countries, see something to admire and even emulate in other countries, and be ready with some constructive criticism for their own lands.

That the children in our schools are learning the lesson of empire and commonwealth was demonstrated to me the other day, May 23, to be exact, when I attended the Empire day program at Bogarttown school.

The program opened with our premier's address to the schools of Ontario.

From something which was very worth while, I gave two quotations. "The future of the empire will depend very largely upon the extent to which our youth of today understands the history of the empire and all that it means to the whole world as an example of the way that people of different nations, races and creeds can co-operate in a great world-wide fellowship."

The other was a quotation from King George V, when he addressed the empire over the radio. "To the children, I would like to send a special message. Let me say, that to each of them whom my words reach, I ask you to remember that in days to come you will be the citizens of a great empire. As you grow up, always keep the thought before you, and, when the time comes, be ready and proud to give to your country the service of your work, your mind and your heart."

Then followed a program which was an education in what our empire really means.

In song, in recitation, in quotations from great speeches, we heard children's voices tell of what the empire—the parts and the whole, has done to preserve freedom on the earth.

The children who read or recited those great speeches—words of hope and inspiration—will never forget them. They will rise up in their memories in years to come with what great results, who can tell, for no one, child or adult, ever lived for even a short time without being the richer in mind and heart.

And how those children sang! Miss McQueen told us that Mrs. Ridley, their former music teacher, had taught them some of the songs and their new music master the rest.

The Maple Leaf, O Canada, There'll Always be an England, Midnight and Morning, Eternal Father Strong to Save, Anchors Aweigh, All for One, The British Grenadiers, Rule Britannia, We'll Never Let the Old Flag Fall, O God Our Help in Ages Past and God Save the King.

What struck me particularly about this program was the spirit with which it was carried out.

This was no sing-song, parrot-like repitition of great words. The children seemed to sense that they were in the presence of great things, of history in the making, and put their small, new knowledge of dramatic power into their work.

Teacher and pupils alike deserve great appreciation for their work, for they had a very limited time to prepare it and yet it bore the stamp of real earnest effort.

A collection was taken for the school's Red Cross work and a nice sum realized to help in this worth-while work.

Grown-ups as well as children went away more proud than ever of our empire heritage.

Husbands think about it!

Make no mistake—husbands often think about coffee. They, too, remember the lesson that coffee rationing proved to be so true:

To make sure of full satisfaction in every cup, you must use really good coffee.

To be absolutely sure of really good coffee, give your husband Maxwell House. It's a truly wonderful blend—full of the fragrant flavor and fine body that men look for in coffee. And here's why:

1. Maxwell House is blended from rare, extra-flavor coffees—the finest the world produces.

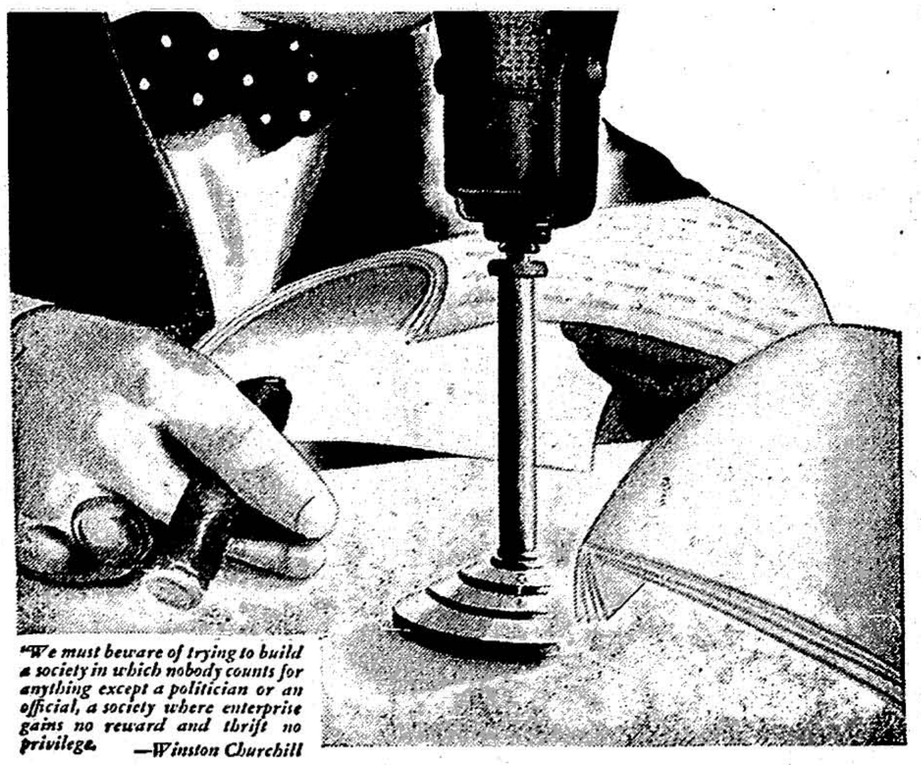

2. This finer blend is roasted by a remarkable process that roasts every single bean evenly all through.

Maxwell House is packed in a Wartime Bag, in an All Purpose Grind and at less cost to you.

SAFEGUARDING PERSONAL INITIATIVE

● Canadians don't like the idea of regimentation. Unregimented, their vision, courage and initiative, have built for Canada a standard of living unexcelled anywhere and equalled by only one other country in the world.

To preserve and improve that standard for themselves, is the very root of existence to every red-blooded man and woman in the nation. The opportunity to do that . . . the freedom to do a better job and earn a better living . . . must be kept open at all costs.

The hope of a just reward stimulates enterprise; the expectation of worthy privilege encourages thrift. Without these incentives personal initiative would die — and all its benefits with it.

For 89 years this Bank has been privileged to contribute to the success of enterprising Canadians in developing the nation's resources, technical facilities and essential services. Its experienced financial counsel and support have ever been available to responsible, forthright, resourceful men and women.

I had a nightmare...

I dreamed that I paid $5.00 for a haircut and $50.00 for a pair of cardboard shoes. I dreamed that we had no wartime controls on prices, profits or wages, and that we hadn't had the sense to organize the distribution of supplies all the way down the line . . .

I dreamed that because everyone was making more money and spending it, prices were skyrocketing.

all the stores looked like "fire" sales . . . with people scrambling to buy before prices went still higher . . .

panicky people were buying things they didn't need, and hoarding everything they could get their hands on . . .

I dreamed that everybody had to fight to get more money . . . and that in this mad race, wages and salaries were falling behind.

I dreamed the hand of everyone was against his neighbour, with each of us blaming the other fellow for his troubles.

with everybody for himself . . . no matter what it cost in the long run . . . and no matter how it hurt the war effort.

THEN...THANK GOODNESS—I WOKE UP!

to realize with relief that I live in a country where things are sane and stable . . . where the cost of living has been kept within bounds.

to realize that prices and wages—production costs and selling prices—are inseparably linked together.

to realize that without the safeguards that have headed off inflation, my nightmare might have become a reality!

to remind myself that the danger is still pressing and that we must continue to hold firm . . . and that means everybody must play fair and do his part by not trying to get some temporary, fancied advantage at the expense of his fellow-Canadians.

This advertisement is one of a series being issued by the Government of Canada to emphasize the importance of preventing further increases in the cost of living now and deflation later.

In Memoriam

Lepard—In loving memory of a dear wife, Mary Lepard, who passed away June 2, 1936.

Peacefully sleeping, resting at last,
The world's weary troubles and trials are past,
In silence she suffered, in patience she bore,
Till God called her home to suffer no more.
Loving and kind in all her ways
Upright and just to the end of her days;
Sincere and true, in her heart and mind,
Beautiful memories she left behind.

Ever remembered by husband.

Marles—In loving memory of our dear son, Arthur Oris Marles, who passed away May 30, 1943.

He is gone but not forgotten,
And as dawns another year
In our lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of him are always near.
Days of sadness will come o'er us,
Friends may think the wound is healed,
But they little know the sorrow
That lies within the heart concealed.

Lovingly remembered by mother, father, sisters and brothers.

Marles—In loving memory of our dear little brother, Arthur Oris Marles, who passed away May 30, 1943.

His message:
Come to My Heavenly garden
And see in perfect bloom
The flower you loved so dearly
And thought that I plucked too soon.
Then you will know My reason,
Though you will know it not today,
Why in his promising manhood
I took your brother away.

Sadly missed and ever remembered by Evelyn, Illeen, Juileen and Phyllis.

Marles—In loving memory of a dear brother, Arthur Oris Marles, who passed away May 30, 1943.

We love to think of you, dear Arthur,
In mansions bright and fair,
There Jesus reigns in glory,
There is no sorrow there.

Sadly missed by Gordon, Sid., Jake, Oscar.

Nelson—In fondest memory of a dear mother, Lillian Nelson, who passed away May 29, 1942.

Not just today, but every day
In silence we remember.

Sadly missed by Chris. and Lillie Hansler and family.

Prosser—In loving memory of our dear mother and dad, Mrs. Susie Prosser, who passed away May 24, 1918, and Mr. Leslie Prosser, who passed away May 23, 1943.

We travel down a winding road,
A road without an end,
And they who seem so far away
Are only round the bend.

Sadly missed and ever remembered by their family.

Prosser—In loving remembrance of a dear mother, Joanna Prosser, who passed away June 1, 1940.

Remembrance is a golden chain
Death tries to break but all in vain;
To have, to love, and then to part
Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart.
The years may wipe out many things
But this they wipe out never—
The memory of those happy days
When we were all together.

Ever remembered by son, Earl, overseas, daughters, Ariel, Muriel, Betty, Mildred and Gladys.

Taylor—In loving memory of my beloved husband, Thos. Taylor, who died May 28, 1943.

I have lost my soul's companion
A life linked with my own;
And day by day I miss him more,
As I walk through life alone.

But some sweet day we'll meet again
Beyond the toil and strife,
And clasp each other's hand once more,
In Heaven, that happy life.

Ever remembered by wife.

CHRISTADELPHIANS

The Bible declares that the children of Israel were God's chosen people. Their kings were appointed by Him and the seat of authority occupied by Kings David and Solomon at Jerusalem was appropriately called "the throne of the Lord," thereby distinguishing the kingdom of Israel from all others. Because Israel departed from God's law the kingdom was overturned "until He comes"—the Messiah. Lev. 20: 26; Deut. 26: 18, 19; 1 Chron. 29: 23; Jer. 9: 13, 16; Ezek. 21: 26.

Read "CHRISTENDOM ASTRAY" in all public libraries or from HOWARD TOOLE, MT. ALBERT, or THOMAS BRIGGS, PEFFERLAW, R. R. 2.

PANORAMIC, ANALYTICAL, with the cruelty of complete honesty but with a deep, underlying optimism for humanity, author James Ronald in THE NIGHT IS ENDING (Longmans Green) dares to create a heroine who is both good and generous, with the courage to cling to old-fashioned virtues. Plot starts in 1930, takes in the ensuing twelve years. Heroine Ruth Malveen, destined to spend her life helping lame dogs over stiles, teaches in a third-rate boarding school in England, sees her father, a lazy cavalier who has shipped her from one unpaid boarding school to another during an uneasy childhood, finally enter an insane asylum as a subconscious haven from his own futility. Ruth falls in love with Harry, selfish music-hall tenor, until Harry's wife turns up to unjustly accuse her, then dump the muddle of her existence in Ruth's lap. The girl decides to take over the upbringing of Harry's three neglected children, runs a down-at-heel dry goods store, pulls the business together and makes something out of the children. A novel of broad social consciousness. James Ronalds is also author of best-seller OLD SOLDIERS NEVER DIE.

EVERY YEAR brings a new household discovery which makes life easier for the homemaker. "Discovery of the year" as far as we're concerned is the fact that burnt dishes come clean with Javex, pure strength. Only women who have struggled to scrape off the scorch of burnt utensils can appreciate fully the labor-saving discovery that in just a few moments the inside of a burnt dish turns white and clean when allowed to soak in Javex. Perfect, too, as a disinfectant and bleach, Javex, for its economical price, is one item every housekeeper needn't be without.

MAGISTRATE'S COURT

GETS TWO AND HALF YEARS ON BREAK-INS

A conviction on two charges of breaking and entering by night summer cottages brought concurrent sentences of two years and six months in Kingston penitentiary for each offence to George Henry Graham, Holland Landing.

The defendant pleaded guilty in York county magistrate's court last week to breaking and entering, along with two other men, the Holland Landing cottage of Dr. R. W. Wesley, Toronto, and taking two pairs of skis, three pairs of ski boots, three pairs of ski poles and a quantity of household goods and clothing to the value of $500. He also admitted that he had broken and entered the Glenville cottage of Dr. Harvey Agnew, Toronto, and taken a lamp and shade, and a number of other articles to the value of $200.

Evidence in the case was heard in court last week and the case adjourned until this week for sentence pending identification of certain articles found on the premises of Mr. Graham on the township line of King and East Gwillimbury.

Constable Ronald Watt, who investigated the "break-ins," told his worship that he and two other officers found the articles in the defendant's home and in a nearby barn hidden in the hay.

Mrs. Helen Agnew, wife of Dr. Agnew, positively identified a radio which was found in Mr. Graham's home as having been stolen from her cottage. At a previous hearing the defendant had claimed that he had purchased this article from a soldier in a car on Yonge St. The witness also identified a radio battery as having been taken from her cottage.

Dr. and Mrs. Wesley, when called to the stand, identified a coat and vest, a pair of rubber boots and a comforter as being some of the articles stolen from their cottage. Dr. Wesley pointed out that his name was inside the coat.

Asked by his worship if he wished to say anything on his own behalf, Mr. Graham said that drink was the cause of his committing the offences.

"It is apparent by your record that you are bent on a criminal career," stated Magistrate Woodliffe.

"May I have the term dated back to the time I was taken into custody?" asked the defendant.

"No, in a penitentiary term I have no power to do that," replied his worship. "The term starts from the time I hand down judgment." He also ordered that the articles be returned to their owners.

A charge of receiving stolen goods against William Graham, father of the previous defendant, was dismissed by his worship. The defendant pleaded not guilty to the charge.

According to Constable Watt, during the course of investigating the previous case, he had gone to the premises of George Graham in East Gwillimbury township. The officer stated that in a room occupied by William Graham, in the upstairs part of the house, he found a coat, a vest and a pair of rubber boots belonging to Dr. R. W. Wesley, which were stolen from his cottage at Holland Landing.

These articles were in a trunk with other articles belonging to William Graham, Constable Watt said. He also found a feather comforter belonging to Dr. Wesley on the defendant's bed.

Called to the stand and questioned by defence counsel, D. E. Wade, Bradford, William Graham, who said that he was 75 years of age, told his worship that he occupied this room in his son's house only on occasions when he visited there. He was accustomed to live with different relatives for short lengths of time. He denied that he knew anything of the stolen articles and stated that the comforter was on his bed when he returned from a visit at his niece's home in Bradford.

Called to the stand as witness for his father, George H. Graham stated that he had stolen the articles and brought them to his home. He said that the comforter had been put on his father's bed by his wife. He said that his father was in Bradford at the time the articles were brought to the house.

"I am satisfied in this case that the accused should be given the benefit of the doubt," commented his worship. "He simply had a room there. He might have had no knowledge that the stuff was stolen."

Pleading guilty to illegal possession of liquor, Holly Goldie, Normandie Blvd., Toronto, was fined $10 and costs of $6.75. An alternative of one month in jail was allowed.

Provincial Constable Arthur Melbourne testified that he had stopped the defendant's car on Yonge St., near Eagle, because it had defective lights. During the course of conversation with Mr. Goldie, he noticed a quart bottle of ale in the rear seat of the car and an empty ale bottle in the front seat. His worship ordered the liquor confiscated.

A term of 30 days in jail, the sentence to date back to May 22, the date of his arrest, was meted out to Pte. Grant Turner, Camp Borden, who pleaded guilty in court last week to stealing a rifle valued at $25 from his grandfather, Alex. McKee, Newmarket. Chief Constable James Sloss, Newmarket, told his worship that the defendant had attempted to sell the rifle for $40.

Appearing before his worship, Melville John Foster, no address, pleaded guilty to being a vagrant.

According to Constable James Sloss, at 2 a.m. on May 27, he noticed the defendant running along the railroad tracks in Newmarket, so he proceeded to Timothy St., where he picked him up in his car and took him to the police station. Here he questioned the defendant, who at first wanted to know if he "couldn't put on an act without being questioned" by the police. Later he admitted stealing money from milk bottles.

"He had 41 cents on him, which he had taken from four different milk bottles," stated Chief Sloss.

"Where does he live?" asked his worship.

"He said that he lived in Aurora a number of years ago," replied the witness. "He had lived in Toronto but no permanent address. He said that he couldn't hold a job for any length of time."

Asked if the defendant had any record, the officer said that he had no offences recorded against him.

His worship adjourned the charge until next week. A second charge, stealing 25 cents from the milk bottle of George Young, Newmarket, was also adjourned.

His worship dismissed a charge of vagrancy against David Hyde, a kindly old gentleman with n address, and advised him to se employment on a farm.

Questioned concerning the defendant, Constable Watt told his worship that at 4.30 a.m on Tuesday he investigated a fire at the side of the railroad tracks in King and found the defendant trying to keep warm. Questioning him, he learned that Mr. Hyde had "no money, no address and no registration card."

"He said that his last permanent address was Barrie," stated the officer. "He cut lawns there."

"Where are you going?" asked Magistrate Woodliffe.

"To Toronto," replied the aged man. He said that he thought he was 57 years of age but his grey hair and frail body indicated he was past the age of 75. Asked by his worship what he did all winter, the defendant said that he went from place to place begging. He had no family.

During the course of conversation after the court adjourned, it was learned that institutions where this sort of vagrant could be sent were filled at present.

"He is a harmless old fellow, wouldn't do a thing to anyone," commented Constable Watt. "We lay a charge of vagrancy against him. It gives him a chance to get a bath and a good meal."

Fines of $10 and costs were imposed on two defendants, Duncan Tillett, Poche's Point, and Edmund Travies, Brownhill. The former was found guilty of allowing an unlicensed driver to drive his car. The charge against him was laid by Constable Carl Morton of North Gwillimbury. The latter was found guilty of having inefficient brakes on his car. Constable Watt tested the defendant's brakes.

At the request of the defendant, Magistrate Woodliffe adjourned for one week the case of Robert E. Huntley, Newmarket, who is charged on complaint of Bruce Phillips, Newmarket, with the theft of a car.

AURORA PAID CIRCULATION EXCEEDS 300 COPIES

SERVING AURORA AND DISTRICT — AURORA, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, JUNE 1ST, 1944 — SINGLE COPIES, 5 CENTS EACH

SAYS CANADA HELPED JAPANESE CONQUEST

Rev. Dr. J. G. Endicott, Toronto, was the guest-speaker at a C.C.F. meeting held in the Mechanics' hall on Tuesday evening. Major A. H. Woods, Newmarket, the C.C.F. federal candidate for York North, was also a speaker. Dr. G. A. C. Gunton, Aurora, acted as chairman.

Dr. Endicott, who spent several years in China, two of them as adviser to Madame Chiang Kai Shek, spoke on "the international significance of the Co-operative Commonwealth movement." The speaker said that "the C.C.F. is not merely a political party but is a crusade with principles and ideals the adoption of which on a world-wide basis would bring about an era of peace and plenty for all mankind."

Dr. Endicott vividly described the bombing of inland Chinese towns and cities by the Japanese air force and spoke of the bitterness on the part of the Chinese toward the British in the days before Pearl Harbor because the Japanese had been supplied with a large part of the munitions of war from Canada and Britain. The speaker mentioned specifically machine-guns stamped "Made in Birmingham" found on crashed Japanese aircraft.

"Monopolistic capitalism is the cause of the conflict in the east," the speaker said. "Japan went into Manchuria and north China with the avowed intention of stamping out progressive movements, and did in part succeed in ruthlessly supressing such movements by the simple expedient of shooting the leaders.

"The great powers of Europe not only did nothing to prevent Japan attempting to dominate China but actually acquiesced. The vested interests of the capitalist powers had to be protected from the rapidly advancing wave of radicalism."

Dr. Endicott described a visit to a Japanese factory, where young Chinese girls of seven, eight and nine years of age were employed unwinding the silk thread from the cocoons. The fingers of these children, said Dr. Endicott, were raw and bleeding, with the finger nails rotting away. A foreman with a whip went up and down the aisles lashing at the children who had fallen asleep or who were slowing up in their work.

Major Woods, the first speaker of the evening, told of the formation and growth of the C.C.F.

"It is a democratic movement and every member of the C.C.F. has equal rights and opportunities, but membership in the C.C.F. implies hard work and sacrifice," he said.

The C.C.F., when elected to power, will introduce extensive social legislation, including health centres available to all the people and a national public housing plan which will make homes available to workers at rentals within their means."

The government's rehabilitation policy for the members of the armed forces was criticized by Major Woods. "The C.C.F. has prepared a policy which will shortly be announced which provides adequate and generous treatment for demobilized soldiers, sailors and airmen and will do what the present administration has so far failed to do—guarantee employment for all."

Aurora Will Buy New Fire Engine And Truck

Aurora town council has decided to purchase a new fire truck at a cost of $5,500 to $6,000.

Councillor A. N. Fisher's committee is waiting government permission to purchase a chassis from the Ford Motor Co. The chassis will be turned over to the LaFrance Fire Engine Co. to install the fire-fighting equipment.

Asked whether purchase of a new fire-engine would mean revision of the fire protection agreements with King and Whitchurch townships, Mayor Roscoe Linton said that the present agreements would expire at the end of this year and that new agreements would be a "matter for discussion."

Mr. Linton said that fire protection was one of many subjects of mutual interest to Aurora, Newmarket and the surrounding townships.

"For instance, with our modern transportation there is not the same need for small cemeteries as there used to be," said Mr. Linton. "A few larger cemeteries would serve.

"Then there is the question of school nurses. There has been legislation for some time enabling a group of municipalities to join together to appoint a school nurse.

"It is to our mutual advantage to have satisfactory fire protection agreements," Mr. Linton said.

The present fire truck was purchased in 1925. Fire Chief Harry Jones recommended purchase of a new truck at a recent council meeting.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Roy Hicks amid a setting of tulips and lilacs. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was becomingly frocked in a long gown of white chiffon over satin with silver trimmings and wore a shoulder-length veil caught to her head with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of butterfly roses.

The bride was attended by Miss Jean Carlisle, Oak Ridges, wearing a street-length dress of heavenly blue sheer with matching hat and veil. Her flowers were a nosegay of pink roses, sweet peas and forget-me-nots.

Mr. Ted Cameron, cousin of the bride, was best man.

She was assisted by a great-aunt of the bride, Mrs. Wells, who wore a black and white figured crepe dress with a corsage of yellow roses.

Following the reception the bride and groom left for a short trip to northern Ontario. The bride's going-away dress was of powder-blue crepe. She wore matching accessories and a grey-blue tweed coat.

DOWN THE CENTRE

Strange things often happen as yours truly gathers the dope for this column. To realize just how small the world is one should travel a bit and talk with strangers. For instance, an R.C.A.F. lad from Calgary whom we met on a train said his home town was Timmins. We mentioned acquaintances some of whom we hadn't heard about for a good many years.

Frank Huggins, better known as "The Chief" back in 1932-33, when he literally flew up and down the ice for the Newmarket Redmen, is now in the navy and stationed at Halifax according to our air force friend. He has not played hockey for some years and has been doing nicely in a financial way up north. Frank is slated to be an officer in the silent service, and has the goods to make the grade too. He was one of the easiest to handle and cleanest players that Bill Hancock had. A west Toronto boy, he is one of three brothers who more than made their mark in the hockey world.

Brother Al. Huggins was of course the better known. Al was a star with the Montreal Maroons and earned quite a bit of publicity when he sued the Montreal club on his contract, a thing hitherto unknown. Needless to say, Al.'s popularity dropped quickly with the moneyed moguls after that and he was more or less blacklisted from pro hockey. He is also up north and raking in the greenbacks.

Normie Woon, of an earlier vintage of Newmarket Redmen and lately a resident of South Porcupine, has also joined the navy and is in training in Toronto. Woon is a native of Coldwater and back in the early thirties was touted by friends to Charlie ("Kid") Harman, then a resident of Aurora, as a coming player. The Aurora boys at that stage were matching dollar for dollar with canal-town in trying to get a championship junior team together and negotiations were immediately made to have Woon come to Aurora.

Somehow or other Stan. Smith and Freddy Thompson got wind of the transaction and he, instead of coming to Aurora, left the train at Newmarket, where he soon became a popular figure and took up residence, remaining there until a few years ago. He was a thorn in the side of the Aurora team for several years too and Herman Gilroy and the rest used to shake their heads whenever Woon was mentioned.

Perhaps we should have said that Aurora was trying to match dollar for dollar with canal-town, for trying was about as far as it got in those days. After his junior days were over Woon played hockey for Aurora intermediates, and all was forgiven. He has played some hockey up north.

Bob Crosby, of Uxbridge, who was a star first baseman the year Uxbridge ousted "Dooley" Butler and his mates from tri-county honors, is the master-mind of sports at Timmins now. A director of recreation for McIntyre mines and manager and impresario for the Timmins arena, Crosby is a graduate of the University of Toronto, where he played hockey. He also played senior baseball in the pit league in Toronto as a team-mate of Earl Cook. Bob's right-hand man is none other than "Sparky" Vail, another former Redman, who is still playing fine hockey after nearly 14 years of service. He has not played hardball for some years, however.

"Red" McArthur, another of the same Dominion titleholders, is out of hockey now but still around Timmins. He played the season of 1942-43, however, but as might be expected has lost most of his blinding speed, although able to move plenty fast yet. "Red" was probably, with the exception of "Pep" Kelly, the speediest player ever to don a Newmarket sweater.

George Smith, former Aurora juvenile player who moved north with his family and played junior hockey at South Porcupine after being overseas for some years, is believed to be seeing action in Italy now.

While on the subject of former Newmarket players, we noticed that Bob McCabe, another "import," is on service with the R.C.A.F. out west. McCabe came to Newmarket from his home town, Bolton, the same year as Woon, but never really lived up to advance notices. He played better hockey, we thought, when with Aurora and Newmarket in intermediate company.

Wes. Heaney, an Aurora junior of the same vintage, later to play with Newmarket intermediates, according to reports we get, is in hospital in Montreal and progressing nicely. "Ninny," the little Julius of district softball, is stationed there with the ordnance corps. The only thing he ever lacked to make him a big star was temperament and size. He overcame the latter to a large extent, but never got that "ball of fire" feeling that is the earmark of a really great player.

Acara, as we predicted, won the king's plate to give us an even break in forecasting the running of Canada's classic. We have had two firsts and two seconds but of course we can't take too much credit, as we stayed pretty well with the favorites but we did have two seconds as well. So if you played across the board, while you wouldn't have made a great deal, you would have had coffee money at least, a better story than most of the weary ones coming home from the tracks can tell. Horse players and fishermen can probably tell the best stories of those that "just got away" than any other groups of sportsmen we know.

Eddie Warren, Aurora theatre owner, is once again back on his old post at the mutuals at the Toronto tracks, a post he has filled to perfection for many years. It takes quite a bit of ability to handle a lot of cash without mistakes, and that is one place where a clear head is needed. Mr. Warren has wanted to retire on many occasions but skilled men are hard to get.

Western racing was another thing we discussed this week, as we read the results from Calgary, and there is quite a story behind it. Reason so few eastern horses go west is because of the small purses offered in each race, and the fact that most are claiming races, where the owner is in danger of losing his horse. Purses range generally up to $400 and are split four ways, the winner getting around $285, $60 for second, $30 for third and $15 for fourth. These are not large amounts as we look at Ontario and American tracks. The amounts offered are not much better than at high-class trotting meets.

The claiming angle is liked in the west, however, as the intent is to sell the horses. Many of the best western horses regularly campaign in the east now to pick up some nice money.

Harry Hatch, in winning the king's plate, got around $10,000 minus tax and plus, of course, the king's 50 guineas. The Alberta derby is a $1,000 purse and the Canadian derby at Winnipeg, where Ten to Ace and Aurora's Charlie Smith fell by the wayside two years ago, is a $5,000 purse, the biggest west of Toronto.

Blood donors are rallying to a worthy cause all through North York these days and we can't resist repeating a slogan we saw quite a few miles from Toronto which we thought pretty good. It read, "If you can't be a private, be a corpuscle."

Bobby Porter, former Toronto Maple Leaf hardballer, ex-Balmy Beach footballer and St. Andrew's College coach, is with the R.C.A.F. in Toronto now and playing softball for them in the Garrison league. We see that Navy has a good many of its hockey juniors of last winter playing softball for its garrison team including Boris Gerasimoff, Billy Armstrong and others.

Over the fence and out is a baseball slogan we remember since we were a kid, and, with so many youngsters taking up hardball at Aurora and Newmarket this year, we thought it might be of interest to deal with a few hardball terms. Everybody knows the above phrase in baseball is not true, although when Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig were performing their opponents doubtless wished it were so. The phrase is said to have originated with the late Arlie Latham, one of baseball's immortals. Latham was playing in the outfield in New York when a goat wandered out on the field. Nanny was in the way and play was halted while Latham grabbed the beast and threw her over the fence, remarking, "over the fence is out."

Automatic strike is when the pitcher is wild and tosses three balls before he throws a strike. The next pitch is the automatic one since the batter tries to hit it, as the heaver must get it over.

Chins up might well be the slogan the Detroit Redwings are adopting for hockey next winter. Jack Adams has just announced the signing to professional contracts of the three Chinese Chin brothers who attracted nation-wide attention with Lucknow juveniles the past winter. They will report for training with the Wings in October. It will be recalled that Mr. Chin and his family resided in Newmarket in the twenties and kept a restaurant there.

William, the eldest of the Chin brothers, was born in the hub of North York 17 years ago. Albert, who is a year younger, was born in Hong Kong while his parents were on a visit to their native land. George, the youngest of the trio, was born at Lucknow, whence the family went to reside on their return to Canada. Both parents were, of course, born in China.

Newmarket has already contributed three native-born sons to professional hockey in the persons of Bill Thoms, Herbie Cain and Aubrey ("Dit") Clapper and may now claim a fourth, with Bill Chin coming up. Bill, like "Dit" Clapper, never performed on the ice for the Redmen, while Newmarket has of course sent many non-native sons, who lived in the town or learned their hockey there, to professional ranks. Newmarket raised Larry Molyneaux and had among imports, "Dodger" Collings, Ellis Pringle, Babe Teasdale, Normie Mann, "Pep" Kelly and Don. Willson that we can recall offhand.

Mud football may soon be seen in Canada and played by girls too. We get that from a Canadian service girl lately returned from overseas. It is a Norwegian game and was brought to England by the Norwegian girls. It is played on a soft pitch by 11 young women to a team in shorts and jerseys, and it gets its name from the fact that the contestants are pretty well covered with mud and dirt when they are finished.

The game, according to what we heard, is a cross between basketball and soccer, but the ball is passed by hand. Canadian girls overseas are playing it right now and doubtless we shall see it here too.

There will be a lot of changes in international sport as a result of the war. Letters from overseas seem to indicate that softball and haruball are becoming popular with the English people and that soon there will be English teams playing. By the same token, soccer of the English sports and British rugger have become more popular with Canadian and American soldiers.

One of the most popular games with the boys is darts. We know it is a favorite in many army and R.C.A.F. messes in Canada now but we doubt if it will be a popular sport generally. For one thing, it is generally played in the pubs in Blighty, and played because people go there for a social evening and to meet their cronies, for a bit of a chit-chat and of course liquid refreshments. The pub is an established institution and will always be so.

Here there are not so many pubs (each hamlet has at least one over there). The psychologists will have to carry on from there about Canada's beverage rooms. We have seen only one or two with any clubby atmosphere or a community-meeting atmosphere. The war won't change that either.

Peggy O'Neil, member of last year's Newmarket camp hardball and softball teams, is stationed at Halifax, we hear, and is playing ball with the Halifax army team in that centre.

Brampton camp, at last reports, was not entirely off the athletic map and may again be seen in some district sports competition. At any rate a corporal from that centre tells us of both hardball and lacrosse practices being held, which may or may not mean anything. "Ban" White, Kenny Dixon, Joe Iannarelli and "Bing" Caswell were still at No. 24 B.T.C. recently.

Johnny Murdin, who played on the first Brampton hockey team and last winter was timer and scorer for the Brampton club on every occasion (he was the guy with the red alarm clock), is overseas.

Handicapping ball players has been suggested this season as a means of curbing the runaway the St. Louis Cards and New York Yankees are making of the big leagues. The idea, while impracticable unless it were a direct spotting of runs, or making certain players sit on the bench while playing certain teams, does indicate the state of mind the sports fans are getting to as they pay fancy prices in war-time to watch second-raters play in most sports (other than with the teen agers). Golf and racing have of course been two outstanding examples where competent handicapping has improved the sports both from a spectators and competitors angle. Better horses are imposed heavier weights, and better golfers give strokes to their opponents.

There is some handicapping in lawn bowling too. It was H. A. Vosburgh, renowned American racing secretary and handicapper, who said: "Let me set the weights and I can bring together a flea and an elephant at the wire." Something may yet have to be done in hockey and baseball to give everybody a break, aside from closing them down for the duration.

Lester Patrick is visiting out west and he takes a dim view about next winter's hockey, particularly so far as his own team is concerned. The New York mentor refuses to commit himself about whether or not there will be N.H.L. hockey. He merely suggests watching the war front. Meanwhile from Chicago comes a request for a 60-game schedule next winter.

Detroit, aside from the Chin deal, has come out in the open, the first pro team to do so, with an

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

Respecting further restrictions in the sale of Spirituous Liquors in the Province of Ontario

IT has become necessary to reduce again the amount of spirits which can be purchased by individual permit holders in the Province of Ontario. This is something over which the Liquor Control Board of Ontario has no discretionary authority. Under P.C. 11374 the Dominion Government limited the amount of spirits which could be obtained for sale in the Province of Ontario to 70 percent of the amount obtained from November 1st, 1941, to October 31st, 1942. That means that by the order of the Dominion Government there became available in Ontario for annual sale 1,153,594 gallons of proof spirits.

It is a problem in simple arithmetic.

All that the Board can do is to adjust the quantity available to holders of permits so that the total amount procurable for sale under the Dominion Government Order P.C. 11374 can be distributed throughout the whole year. Due to the increase in the number of permits, and the extent to which the permit holders are purchasing spirits each month, it now becomes necessary to reduce the amount which can be purchased by individual permit holders or there will be no spirits available for sale during the closing months of the present year. The following table shows in simple form exactly what has been taking place:

	Number of Permits outstanding at month end	Monthly ration	Aggregate to fill monthly ration
January, 1943	155,295	160 oz.	108,702 proof gals.
January, 1944	1,227,459	26 oz.	139,623 proof gals.
March, 1944	1,282,938	26 oz.	145,934 proof gals.

A recent survey of the sales for the present year and the amount still available under the limits imposed by the Dominion Government make it necessary to limit purchases on the following basis as of the first of June.

FROM THE FIRST OF JUNE UNTIL THE END OF THE PRESENT OPERATING YEAR EACH PERMIT HOLDER WILL BE PERMITTED TO PURCHASE ONE BOTTLE (25 or 26 ounce) OF SPIRITS EVERY TWO MONTHS OR TWO HALF-BOTTLES, WHEN AVAILABLE.

20,000 TONS OF WASTE PAPER ARE REQUIRED EVERY MONTH TO MAKE ESSENTIAL CONTAINERS FOR MILITARY SUPPLIES

WHAT IS WANTED
You can remedy this critical paper shortage by saving every scrap of Waste Paper, namely: wrapping paper—store bags—cardboard — cartons — corrugated board—old magazines and books—envelopes and letters — newspapers. These represent the raw material for making vitally needed Paper containers.

HOW TO DO IT
Tie securely in separate bundles. (The little time you take will save thousands of man hours.) Then dispose of it through your local voluntary Salvage Committee or other War Voluntary Organization, or sell it through any known trade channels, your pedlar, dealers or others. The important thing is your Waste Paper moving to the mills.

amateur club and called its junior A team at Galt the Redwings. What's more, they will use Detroit sweaters with Galt on them. Well, Detroit supplies the players and we suppose extra remuneration and it would be better for all concerned to have it above board.

Dick Irvine, coach of Les Canadiens, commenting from his western home on the holler about baseball, suggests that the game be improved in calibre by playing fewer games a week, thereby allowing the better players to participate more often, and also giving the fans a breather. Despite all the squawks, gate attendances, as you've guessed, haven't suffered much any place.

Swimming received a tribute 180 years ago, as one of the most beneficial of all sports, from the pen of a would-be English poet, Dr. Bsynard. He wrote: "Of exercises, swimming's best. Strengthens the muscles and the chest. And all their fleshy parts confirms. Extends and stretches legs and arms. And with a nimble, retro-spring, contracts and brings them back again. As 'tis the best, so 'tis the sum of exercises all in one. And of all motions most compleat because 'tis violent without heat."

The Doc, we guess, was no great shakes as a poet, but he said a mouthful of sense. What we're getting at is that "youse guys and gals" have a great chance this year to improve the old physique by trotting down to Wilcox or Musselman's Lake or to Lake Simcoe. There are a few of the old swimming holes left too.

For the kids the Lions clubs at Aurora and Newmarket might well consider supervised summer trips to the lakes to give the youngsters a chance to get in the water. Sooner or later somebody will start a pool for everybody either in Aurora or Newmarket, like the one at Hogg's Hollow. Might be a fine idea as a war memorial too. We hope you're listening, Lions.

MOUNT ALBERT

IT WAS A BIG ONE, IT DIDN'T GET AWAY

Mrs. Geo. Walsh spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Grose, Thornton.

The people on the top of the hill held a bee and have cleaned up the little park flower beds and are keeping the grass cut, which has certainly improved it. This is a great help to the Horticultural Society. It is suggested that those who live near the other flower beds might help out by following their example.

Ernest Davis, Jim Rolling and Charles Peterson were fishing recently in Lake Simcoe when "Charlie" landed a lake trout weighing 10 lbs., 9 oz. It was 36 inches long.

The first aid class of the Red Cross and St. John's Ambulance will have a first aid station at the park on Saturday.

Miss Winnifred Cowell and Miss Bud Smith, Kingston, are visiting this week at the home of Miss Smith's sister, Mrs. Tilley.

MOUNT ALBERT

Mount Albert Will Have Organized Sport

Mrs. J. Moore has returned from Toronto and has opened her home for the summer.

For 19 years the Mount Albert Park board has held a successful Sports day. Only once has it had to be postponed on account of rain. They have a playground they are proud of and this is the one day in the year the funds go toward the upkeep of the grounds.

This year, under the chairmanship of Roy Stewart, it is hoped it will be no exception. A good time, with ball games, school events, dancing competition, horse-shoe pitching, bingo by the Veterans, a booth and draw for an occasional chair by the Red Cross, concert and dance in the evening, with the Women's Institute serving supper in the hall, should make a grand program. When all the old boys and girls get together to visit it makes a perfect day.

LAC Allan Wilson, Coal Harbour, B.C., is home on furlough for two weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Wilson.

Cpl. and Mrs. Norman Wilson and Garry of Billings Bridge are at the home of Mrs. Wilson's father, Mr. Robt. Davis, for a couple of weeks.

All the games will be under selected leadership.

The three lodges of the village, the I.O.O.F., L.O.L. and Rowland Masonic, attended the church service at the United church on Sunday morning, marching up in a body.

Several of the members, led by Robt. Harrison, took the service. Rev. W. H. Burgess gave a fine address on brotherhood. The names of members who had died were read by representatives from each lodge. Mr. Armstrong sang nicely the beautiful old hymn, "The Old Rugged Cross."

WHERE WE SIT

By Del. Gibney

A grand supper served by the members of the Ladies' Bowling club started things rolling Monday evening at the Newmarket greens. Some 20 members and friends sat down to supper.

Andy Murdison, master of ceremonies in the absence of the president, Steph. Rose, started the season by having the rookies take on the old timers in a matched tournament, two ends to decide a winner. The old reliables always finish on top.

The foursome of Mrs. C. F. Willis, Mrs. R. D. Brown, Mrs. W. M. Cockburn and Mrs. C. G. Wainman were in top form to win over Stanley Janes, Doug. Brown, J. O. Little, and Harry Helmer.

As an added attraction, all present scattered around the greens, a kittie was placed in the centre, and at the signal everyone bowled, with Jim Law getting several good whicks to come in close. Mrs. Bob Large was the best lady.

The grand finale of the evening was a mixed tournament.

Some 30 rinks have made entries for the big July 1 tournament, which offers $150 in prizes.

School Softball

Fred Hall has formed a six-team softball league in the public schools and the kids are showing great interest in the game. If it is future stars you are looking for, be on hand at the Alexander Muir or Stuart Scott school grounds Monday and Friday afternoons and watch these kids whip the ball around the bases.

The "Town" has promise of a ladies' softball team providing the factories can line up an aggregation to meet their challenge. Some 20 misses on the main thoroughfare and at the high school are anxious to form a league.
